

BOB FORREST / SAVE MUSIC IN CHINATOWN

A BENEFIT FOR CASTELAR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

“We’re trying to raise money to pay for the music program at Castelar Elementary School. Castelar is inner-city public LAUSD school that caters to mostly first- and second-generation immigrant kids who speak Cantonese, Vietnamese, Cambodian, and Thai.

Even so, the students are very motivated and test quite well because they are brought up in a culture that respects education. There is also a very cool, very successful dual-language Mandarin program that my daughter Eloise is taking part in and thriving in.

But there is no budget for music, and parents are being asked to raise $100,000 to pay for this year’s program (which is being taught on an IOU) as well as make sure that next year’s program is accounted for from the beginning.

My thought was that Chinatown was an incredible history of art galleries and music culture but that participants of either don’t have many chances to mix with the locals.

Yet given an opportunity to be involved and help out they would surely and gladly reach out.”
